

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

..A monopoly in any business is abhorrent and costly to the population. But to relax the rules on the media, would be the very last thing that happens in a democracy.. It's like handing down a death sentence. It must not happen. In fact there is already too much consolidation and the news is so slanted already hat it cannot be trusted. These rules should be tightened, not loosened..
